CHRISTMAS HQ · FOR PARENTS

Kids under 13 without the worry

Young children don't get an account in Christmas HQ. You run their list, and they still get all the fun: their own wishes, the leaderboard, and a list to look at that never spoils a surprise.

🔒 No account for under-13s
No email, no PIN, no sign-in. Nothing is collected from your child.

🎅 You stay in charge
You, the Santa's helpers and any parent you pick add their wishes and tick their checklist.

🧸 Surprises stay surprises
"Show Tim" hands your child their list with nothing about who's buying what.

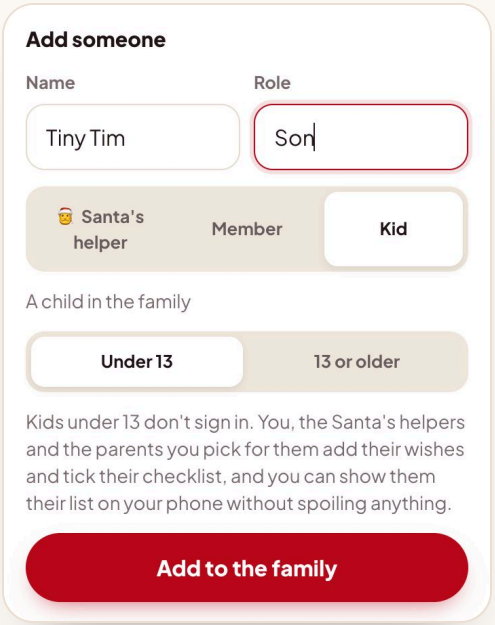

Shown with a pretend family: the Cratchits from A Christmas Carol

1 Add your child as "Under 13"

Takes ten seconds in Family settings. Under 13 is already picked when you choose Kid.

- ✓ Type their name and role, pick Kid, and leave Under 13 selected.
- ✓ No email, phone number or PIN is asked for. Christmas HQ only keeps the name you type and the wishes you add.
- ✓ Teens 13 and up can be given a PIN to sign in themselves, with your OK.

🎂 Birthdays happen. When your child turns 13, tap "They're 13 now" and give them a PIN. Their list and points come with them.

Your family at a glance

Belinda and Tiny Tim show "Under 13: run by the Santa's helpers." Tap a name next to Run by to let a parent who isn't a helper run that child's list too. They have no PIN to lose or share.

- ✓ Adults and teens show how they sign in: by email, or with a PIN.
- ✓ Mark anyone under 13 later. It signs them out and removes their PIN straight away.

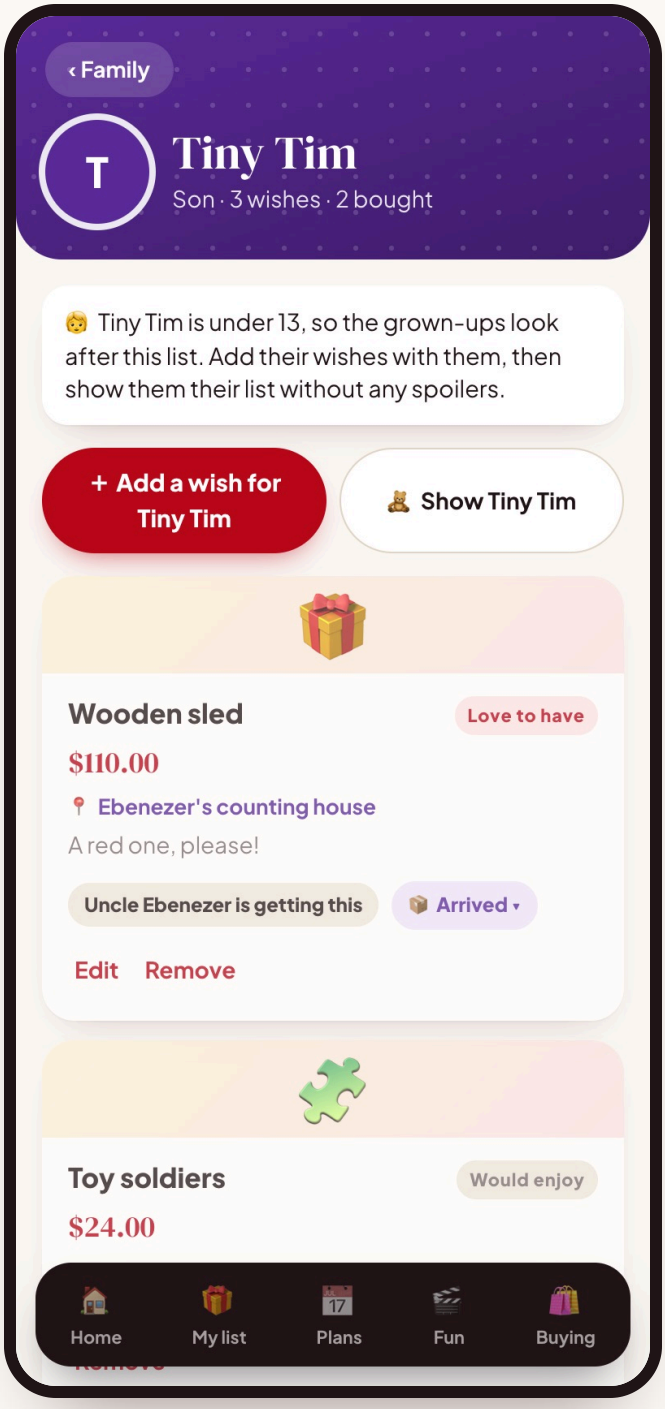

2 Make the list together

Sit down with your child and add their wishes from your phone. It's the Christmas-list tradition, minus the lost scrap of paper.

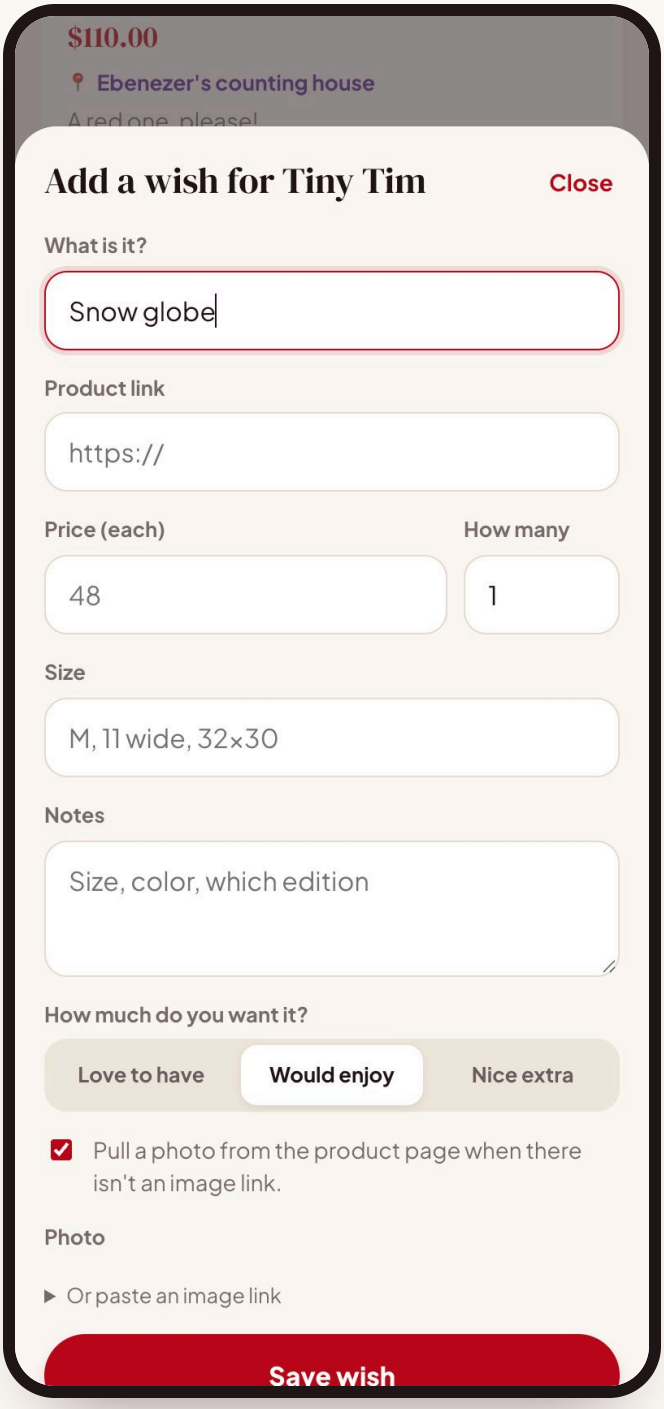

Tim's list, on Mom's or Dad's phone

"Add a wish for Tiny Tim" and "Show Tiny Tim" at the top

Adding a wish for Tim

Name, link, price, size, how much he wants it

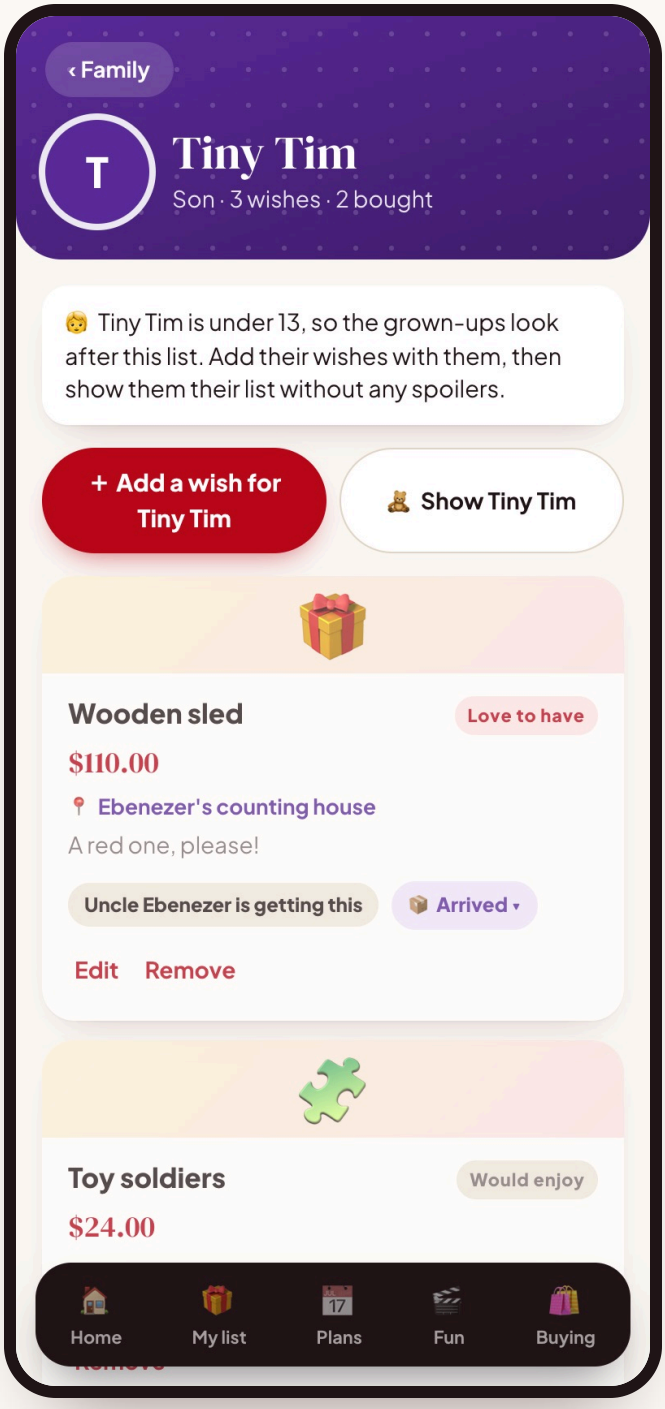

Every Santa's helper can help. Grandparents and aunts who are Santa's helpers can add to Tim's list too. Everyone else can only claim gifts on it.

3 Hand them the phone, spoiler-free

Kids love checking their list. Tap "Show Tiny Tim" and give them your phone: they see their wishes and nothing else.

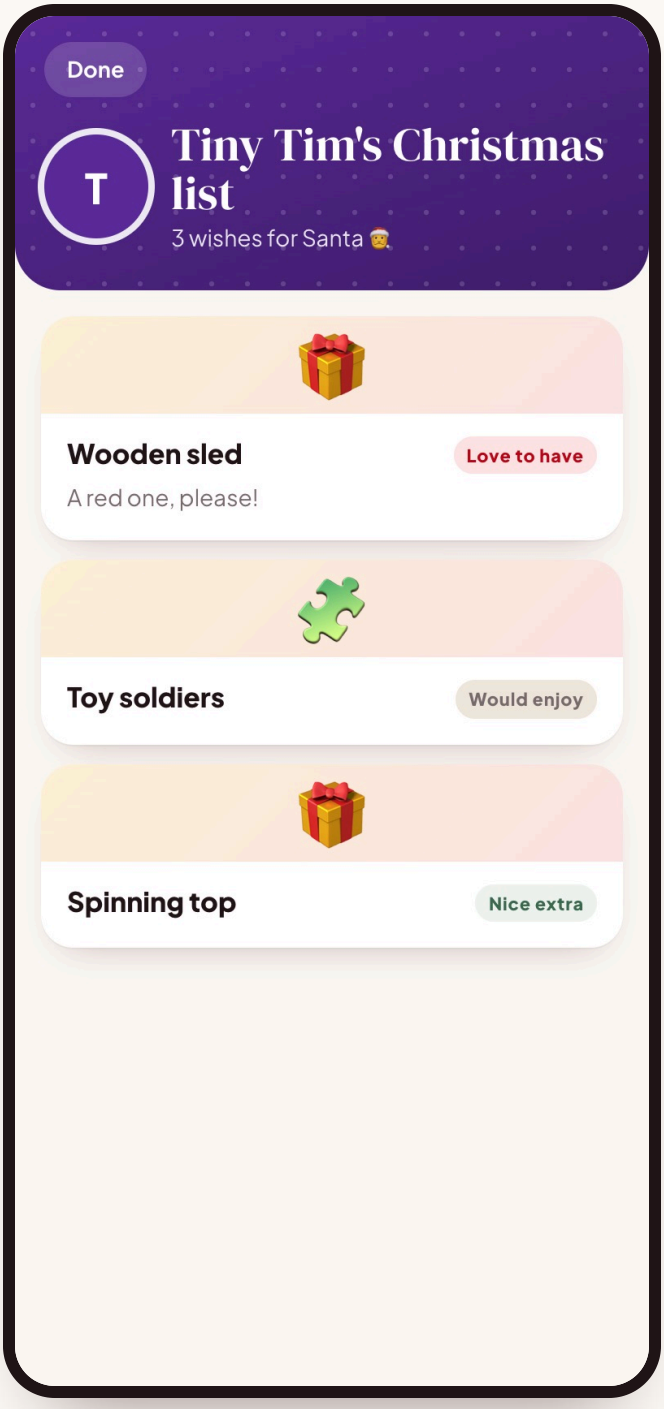

What you see

Who's getting it, where it's hidden, what's arrived

What Tim sees

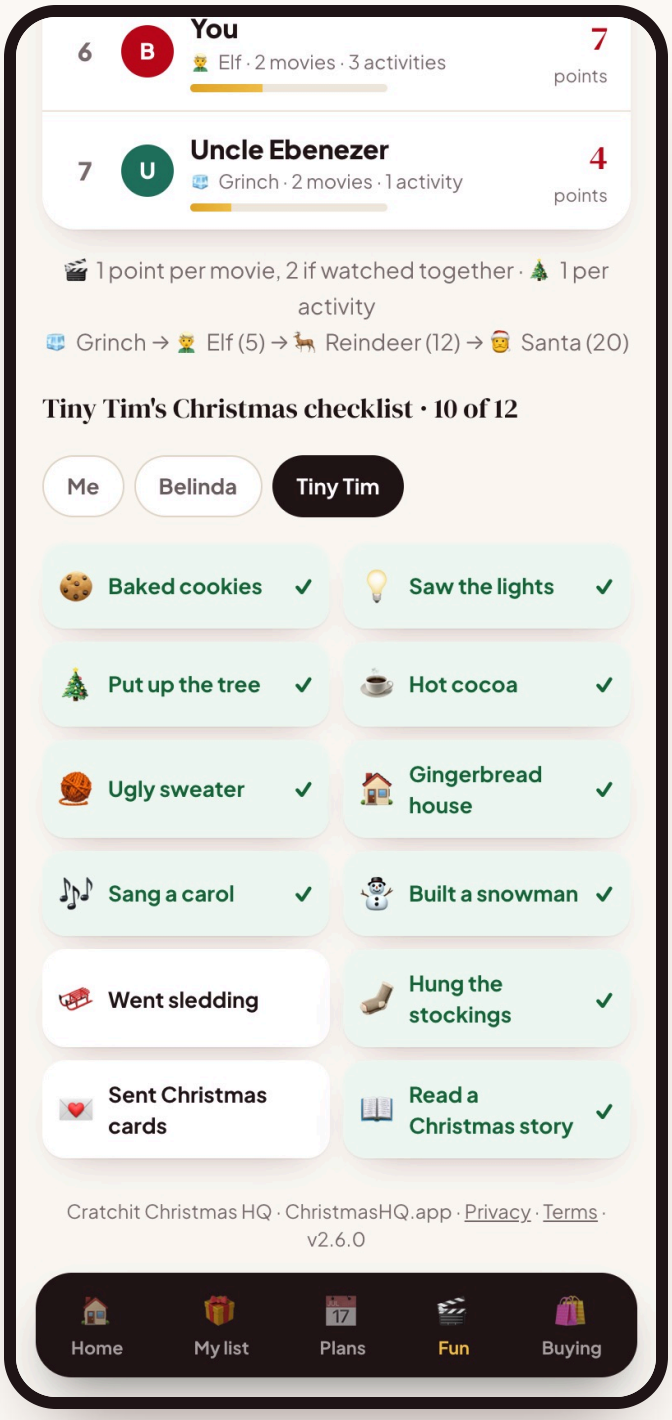

Just his wishes. Tap Done to get your phone back.

🤫 Left out of Tim's view: who's buying each gift, whether it's bought, arrived or wrapped, where it's hidden, prices, and every surprise and stocking stuffer for him, even ones he doesn't know exist.

4 Keep them on the leaderboard

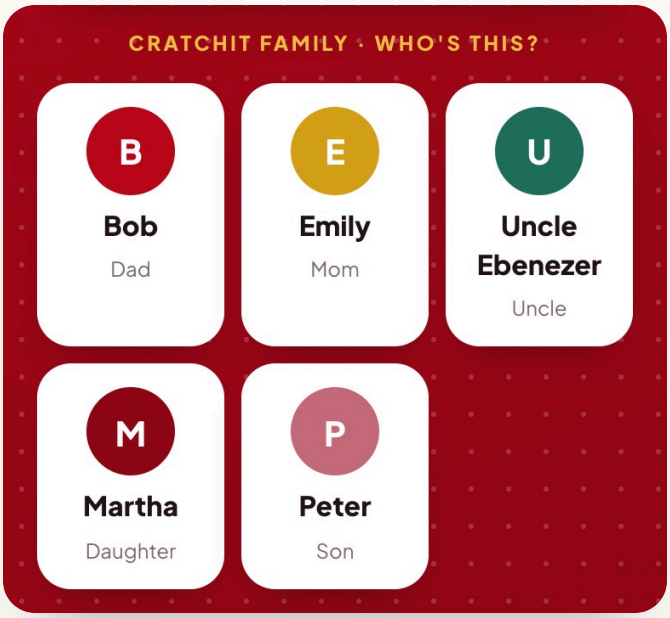

Most Christmassy is half the fun. Log movie nights for the whole family, and tick your child's Christmas checklist for them.

- ✓ Pick Me, Belinda or Tiny Tim above the checklist, then tick what they did: cookies baked, lights seen, a snowman built.
- ✓ Movies you log as "watched together" count double for everyone there.
- ✓ Kids climb from Grinch to Elf, Reindeer and Santa. Tim is already a Reindeer.

And no way in for under-13s

Under-13s don't appear on the family's PIN sign-in screen, so there's nothing for them to guess or tap into. Only the grown-ups and teens are listed.

The Cratchits' PIN sign-in: no Belinda, no Tiny Tim.

WHY WE DO IT THIS WAY

Your child's privacy, in plain words

Children's information online deserves extra care, and US law (COPPA) sets special rules for children under 13. The simplest, safest approach: children under 13 don't use Christmas HQ themselves. Everything about them comes from you.

About a child under 13, Christmas HQ…
Keeps the first name and role you type	Yes
Keeps the wishes, movies and checklist ticks you add	Yes, inside your family only
Asks for their email, phone, address or birthday	Never
Gives them an account, PIN or sign-in	Never
Shows them who's buying their gifts	Never
Uses their information for ads, or sells it	Never
Lets you delete everything about them	Yes: remove them in Family settings, or email us

Questions parents ask

Can my 10-year-old use it on their own tablet?
Not by themselves. Use "Show" on your phone or tablet together. It's quick, and they'll still feel it's their list.

What about my 14-year-old?
Teens 13 and up can sign in with a PIN you give them, and add their own wishes and surprises for you.

Can grandparents add to my child's list?
Yes, if you make them a Santa's helper. Other relatives can claim gifts but can't change the list.

Will my child see a surprise by accident?
Not on their "Show" screen. Surprises and stocking stuffers for them are left out completely.

Read the full Privacy Policy at ChristmasHQ.app/privacy. Questions: elswanapps@gmail.com